

Sentence Song

Every sentence has a subject
and the subject does something in the present or the future or the past.

Every sentence has a subject
and the subject does something.

And remember that the period comes last.

It can be a question. It can be a statement.

It can also be an exclamation.